DISTRICT 7 — ALTON & BARNSTEAD

IT'S OUR MISSION to educate citizens on reasonable, responsible candidates who will be good stewards for Belknap County's residents, budget and institutions.

We'll also point out extreme candidates - such as libertarians posing as Republicans, those responsible for past county chaos, and ineffective or irresponsible legislators.

Recommendation Factors

Our steering committee researched and discussed each candidate. These recommendations are the result of that effort. For more info on each candidate, please visit our website

Barbara Comtois Libertarian and County Delegation obstructionist. Part of Delegation leadership during libertarian gutting of county budget and instrumental in Gunstock chaos. Prime-sponsored failed 2024 bill in NH House attacking Gunstock, over rejections by county delegation and House committee.

Ruth Larson Retired lawyer and former State Senate candidate, tireless bipartisan campaigner, former seats as Gunstock Area Commissioner and Alton supervisor of the checklist. Actively opposed libertarian attacks on Gunstock, nursing home and county budget.

Peter R. Varney The least harmful of District 7's libertarian incumbents due to not attending Delegation meetings. Small business owner, fire chief in New Durham. Boycotted pivotal Gunstock meeting with other libertarians.

Stephanie Vuolo Alton resident and former software salesperson, long time summer then full time Belknap County resident. Responses in questionnaires indicate reasonable and responsible positions on housing, budget, Gunstock, and other county issues.

Paul A. Terry Libertarian incumbent. Took money from NH Exit, promoting NH's secession from the U.S. One of 13 reps to support NH constitutional amendment to do so. Supported libertarian take-over of Gunstock Area Commission, boycotted pivotal Gunstock meetings, and gutting of the Belknap County budget. Co-sponsored 2024 bill HB 1414 again attacking Gunstock. Lives in Alton

Susan C Stevens Has not campaigned, made public statements in the papers or answered questionnaires.

Bill Wright We remain neutral on incumbent Bill Wright

Michael Muzzey Former banker serving as county treasurer for over a decade without fuss or chaos. Reasonable and responsible track record.

Alan Glassman Conservative incumbent who returned as a write-in to fend off Norm Silber in Primary. Reasonable and responsible advisor to county residents in probate matters.

Steve Hodges Incumbent and former Sheriff of Belknap County, helped to stabilize the county budget in 2023 after years of mismanagement by libertarian-led County Delegation. Reasonable and responsible in support of county institutions.
